

WITH A VISION

Do you believe you have been misinformed about your history?

Do you feel under-represented?

The underachievement of black pupils have been a recurrent theme in education for decades.

We are looking for young people to:

- Connect - share their own experiences of education
- Challenge - undertake research through interviews with other young people, community members, parents, and teachers
- Create Change - present their research results in ways that can be used with impact

Raising Awareness

ENLIGHTENMENT

Other Histories

If you would like to participate in the project, either as a young person or school teacher, please contact
